

The study was initiated on January 2009 and during that year 13 patient have been enrolled. Blood samples have been analyzed according to the protocol. No further patients were enrolled, therefore the study was prematurely interrupted because of difficulty in enrolment of patients.

No significative data are available