

2014-000348-14 Statin-treatment and peripheral neuropathy – a randomized clinical trial

This trial was approved by the Danish Health Authorities.

This trial was not initiated, since the protocol could not be approved by the ethics committee. The reason that it was not approved was that stroke patients would not for 6 months be treated with statins according to international guidelines and recommendations.

Thus, no patients were screened for inclusion and participation in the trial.
