Project: "Amilorid treatment of nephrotic edema"

EudraCT 2015-001946-26

The study was never initiated and no patients were included. First off all because of the lack of success regarding raising money to the project. Second, the study medicine amiloride was out of stock in Denmark as the producer (Mylan, Sweden) terminated the production/delivery to Denmark.

So there is no data or results to report as no patients were included in the study. The local ethical committee, the GCP-unit at Aarhus University and the Danish Medicines Agency are informed about the termination of the study and that no patients were included in the study.
