

Un-coded Adverse Events at Database Lock

At database lock (21.05.2019), some adverse events remained uncoded. This was due to unanswered queries that were raised to request information that would assist with medical coding of adverse events using MedDRA. As these coding queries were not resolved, the corresponding adverse events were not coded. The queries were generated for the following reasons:

- Further clarification of the event(s) was required in order to code the terms accurately.
- More than one adverse event was recorded in a single datapoint (row) and there was no suitable match in the MedDRA dictionary to capture a combination of the events.

Below is a list of the adverse events which were not be coded at the time of database lock.
