

Annotation for missing values on secondary endpoint.

We have uploaded data from the clinical trial investigating if flucloxacillin induces CYP-enzymes. All data obtained until November 21st, 2022, have been reported in EudraCT database Results. It has not been possible to calculate all data for secondary endpoints within a year. However, this will be done as soon as possible.

The secondary endpoint we still need to answer is:

“Changes in the full pharmacokinetics of flucloxacillin and its metabolite after 9 and 27 days of flucloxacillin treatment compared to baseline.”
